PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Florida State University's online master's degree in Athletic Coaching is designed by coaches for coaches. Our goal is to provide current and future coaches and sports professionals with current knowledge and best practices that are based on experience and research. We want our students to be the most knowledgeable and successful in the profession.

The program, which can be completed on a full-time or part-time basis, requires 30 graduate credit hours of coursework in content knowledge, research and practice, and electives. Course topics covered include ethics in coaching, sport and exercise psychology for coaches, coaching for human performance and research in coaching.

This program is housed in FSU's Interdisciplinary Center for Athletic Coaching (FSU COACH), which is dedicated to using research and scientific knowledge to help coaches become better at what they do so that their athletes are more successful within and external to their sport. You can learn more about the center at fsu-coach.fsu.edu.
